

Dear Hocking Hills Business Owner:

Let me ask you a question...

What has the Hocking Hills State Park done for your business?

- Attract over 3 million tourists to the area last year.
- Provide year round attractions unlike anything else in Ohio.
- Offer free nature programs, hiking, and much, much, more to your customers.

Have you ever thought about what this means to your business and if it survives without the Hocking Hills State Park? My guess is that it means customers! And it is because of these same customers, that the Hocking Hills State Park needs you! Budget cuts continue to impact the park operations and we need everyone to help protect and to ensure our wonderful natural resource, which is the Hocking Hills State Park, for future generations and customers.

Three things you can do to give back to the Hocking Hills State Park:

1. Join Friends of Hocking Hills State park, to help promote your business and support the park at the same time.
2. Volunteer in the park.
3. Make a monetary contribution to help support park projects and programs.

The members of FHHSP have donated more than $225,000 to fund rope rescue safety equipment, portable defibrillators, playground equipment in the campground, a new archery range, ongoing naturalist programs, live animal care, a wild life viewing blind, and a butterfly habitat, just to name a few. All these improvements have been made without state funds or fees to users, only through the generosity of people just like you who love the area and have supported the Friends of the Hocking Hills.

Give back to the park that has given you so much!
